

January 4, 2006

Communications

TM3

Marketing Media Metrics

To Whom It May Concern:

TM3 Communications has held preliminary discussions with Stop Bullying Today, with respect to developing their communications strategies for future programs and services.

The result of these discussions were that TM3 Communications shall undertake to begin a comprehensive needs analysis and begin to formulate strategies to meet these needs at such time as we enter into a contractual agreement with Stop Bullying Today.

We look forward to working with Sherrie Marshall and her team as they continue to deliver valuable programs that address the issue of bullying and the impact it has on our society. We fully anticipate a lasting professional relationship.

Shane Thomson
TM3 Communications